LEEDS Children's Theatre, in conjunction with The Leeds Arts Centre, is presenting a Christmas fantasia of four plays for children in the Albert Hall from December 7-11.

Arthur Ridley, well known to Leeds audiences for many years as a writer-producer, is producing his play "Harlequinade" in which children from Leeds schools will take part.

The other three plays are "The Pace Egg," traditional mummers play, "The Truth About King Wenceslas" by Edna Baker, and "The Imp Tree" by Freda Collins.
