

LEEDS FAIRY PLAY RUNS TWO WEEKS

THE Children's Theatre section of the Leeds Arts Centre has produced a delightful piece of fairy-tale-telling in "Beauty and the Beast," which is staged at the Civic Theatre this week and next, with matinees on both Saturdays.

Lively characters, colourful scenery and something like magic, combine a 12 scene production that keeps a junior audience interested from start to finish. Some of the principal parts will not always be in the same hands, but whoever plays, it is certain there will be appreciation from the audience for this form of entertainment, specifically designed for children.

Production is by Joyce Adcock and Margaret Shackleton.
